CIS 120 - Quiz 1 - Friday, August 29, 2003

Name: ____________________________ StudentNumber: ____________________________

1. (2 pts) Languages like Java that provide structured programming allow us to write programs to solve problems without the use of ________________ statements.

2. (2 pts) What are two ways in which to include comments in a Java program?

3. (2 pts) Suppose we create a Java program that contains the declaration public class HelloWorld . What must be the name of the file in which we store this program?

4. (2 pts) Suppose you see the following line in a Java program. print("Hello"); . In this statement, what can we say about what type of thing the identifier print is and why?

5. (2 pts) Show the output when the following line is executed. System.out.println("123\n456\n789");