1. (2 pts) ________________ refers to components of a computer system that we can physically touch, whereas ________________ refers to programs that controls those components.

2. (2 pts) A ________________ is a style of programming, and the style of programming that Java uses is called ________________.

3. (2 pts) Java was developed at ___________________________________________ by a team led by Dr. James Gosling, who originally tried to name the language ________________.

4. (2 pts) In structured programming, we try to avoid the use of ________________ which was part of early languages like Basic.

5. (2 pts) True/False _____ The Java compiler, javac, converts source code directly into machine executable code.