1. (2 pts) Of the following identifiers, which ones are legal identifiers in Java?
(a) name123 (b) name-1 (c) name$ (d) 1name (e) 2cwhatwesee (f) my$ison%

2. (2 pts) An entity whose value can change during the execution of a program is called a
__________________________, but if the entity is declared ____________________________, after it is given an initial value, that value cannot change for the remainder of the execution of the program.

3. (2 pts) The default type of a whole number in Java is ________________, and the default type of a decimal number in Java is ________________.

4. (2 pts) The char literal that contains a single quote character, ', is ________________, and the String literal which contains a double quote character, "", is ________________.

5. (2 pts) Two ways to include a comment in a program are to place ____________________ on a line and the rest of the line will be ignored and to place ____________________ around a segment of code.